LOOK AT US NOW

It took a fresh start to get a clearer look at things and come up with a new approach and better ideas at CHS. The yearbook has rearranged its coverage to come up with new ideas, different coverage, different format for copy.

After last year's book was received, we had to look for a better way. Sometimes it was hard to see where the yearbook was going and to see what we were trying to achieve. But through it all there was an under current for a fresh new start — LOOK AT US NOW!

The crowning of homecoming queen, Kelly Moeck

Kelly Moeck, daughter of Char and Charlie Peters, was crowned the 1985 Homecoming Queen on Friday, September 27. The coronation took place between the sophomore and varsity games. Kelly was crowned by the 1984 Queen Julie Paarman. Members of the queen's court were Melanie Selby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Selby, Janine Hodgert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hodgert, and Linda Eck, honorary attendant.

Junior attendants were Ann Muller and Becky Mackin. Sophomore attendants were Kris Klaas and Renee Fisher.

This year's festivities consisted of a Nerd Day, Hawaiian-Toga Day and School Colors Day. Friday morning a breakfast was held at the school cafeteria. It was sponsored by Student Council and the cheerleaders. Friday afternoon a pep rally was held to get school spirit going and boy there was a lot of it!

At the rally Tony Kuehn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kuehn, was crowned the 1985 Homecoming King. He was crowned by Julie Paarman, 1984 Homecoming Queen. Members of the King's court were Dean King, son of Ron and Linda King, Mike Evers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Evers and Jussi Hanhivaara, honorary attendant.

A parade followed the rally. It traveled through downtown DeWitt then over to the Junior High School. Where another pep rally took place. The first place float was done by the Special Education Students.

This year's theme was "Spear the Spartans." The football team was defeated in the big game by Pleasant Valley. Music for the Homecoming dance, which followed the game, was by Paul Rock.

SPORTS

If anyone doubted the sincerity of Saher Pride, all they had to do was watch us work. From the sights of homes, all the way to state, the student body, teachers, and administrators supported the efforts of groups and individuals who achieved much.

Our surge of pride was not hurt because of the loss of the homecoming game.

Frank Cole is a special person around the halls of Central. It was his responsibility every afternoon to get the audio-visual equipment to the proper room and to pick it up afterwards. It is a major undertaking to keep all the equipment in order and where it is to go next. His help was greatly appreciated.

Central Community School offers a variety of courses to meet the needs of the student body, be it going on to college, going to trade school or whatever the student decides to do.

Central students gave mixed reactions to their view of the class they will remember the most. Senior Mark Anderson will remember World History with Mr. Bielenburg, while senior Brenda Burkemper will remember Biology. Senior Tom Trimble said he would remember Chemistry, while senior Karen Burken said she would remember Accounting. Senior Kristi Hofer didn't hesitate at all when she said Voc-Ag.

Other seniors, Doug Lomsdalen chose computers, Karl Trulson chose band, Jim Miller and Melissa Knudson chose senior seminar, Lori Bollie, Jayne Peters, and Ann Mayberry chose physiology. Kent Jurgerson said he would choose woodworking while Jeff Fugisang would choose auto mechanics.

Three years of English are required at Central. The courses which are offered are Media Now, Language Arts, English 10, Language Art Enrichment, American Literature, Interpersonal Communication, Debate, Creative Writing, Expository Writing, Honors English, Individualized Reading, Personal English and British Literature. The foreign language department offers courses in Spanish I, II, and III.

Frank Cole considers the mechanics of film projector.

Stepping Into the Real World

LEARNING IN A FOREIGN ENVIRONMENT

"Leaving was the hardest thing for me to do. I lived there for two and a half months." This is how Jennifer Jacobsen felt about Bunuel, Navarra, Spain. I was really disappointed when I found out I'd been placed in Spain. I thought this was going to be Mexico over the ocean. Boy, was I wrong.

I learned alot, not only about Spain, about the people and culture. I also learned alot about myself. Life goes on without a car, a telephone, a curling iron and the English language.

The people in Spain are great. They are so nice. They'll give you everything and more. They are really friendly; they always wanted to talk to me and help.

I got used to living like them and I liked it better. I mean, if my hair didn't look perfect — big deal, they still liked me for the person I was.

If I had a choice of where to live between the U.S. and Spain, my vote goes to Spain. The people, on an overall, I guess are nicer and life is simpler.

My AFS experience was a good one. I'll cherish it forever.

My only regret was it was too short.

Being a Junior at Central

Being a junior has brought new exciting experiences into our lives. Having teachers such as Mr. Bielenburg and Mr. Raikes, has given us a new outlook on life. When you have classes like Chemistry and History, you never know what to expect each day. You may be faced with a lab that takes you years to figure out or you could be in history trying on outfits from soldiers of war. So if you try your best you can make this the best year of your life.

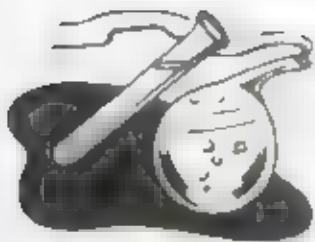

Tom Hansen, Larry Banowetz, and Jeff Schmidt go for a ride on the big red fire truck.

Brigg Tubbs goes for the long itch of it.

Ty Stevens karate chops his way the long jump.

Todd Holiverson can't believe his eyes or what he is hearing.

Don McGee and Don Wagner express their distaste of being photographed.

What are you looking at? thinks Carrie McDonald.

CCHS'S Workforce

It has been said that, "Necessity is the mother of invention." However, for a high school student this proverb does not necessarily apply. A more suitable version should read "Necessity is the mother of a job." The typical student can and does find some sort of employment during his high school career. These people are the heroes of our system at CCHS and should be respected for their accomplishment. These people have found a source of money in the face of time consuming homework which has been liberally applied by their instructors.

Mike Hughes appears to be deep in thought.

The typical student holding a job works at some form of a food service establishment. Barnes currently employs the most CCHS students ringing in at 17 positions held. Most students work for around $3.35. This does not allow them a luxurious lifestyle but provides substantially more money for personal recreation that most parents do.

The people who have found jobs, willingly or not, are gaining experience that will benefit them in the future. Most of these people will hold "better" jobs in the future but they learn the essentials in maintaining employment. These valuable resources include, experience working for another person, working with other people, and creating and maintaining some form of a budget. These experiences and countless more are shaping the characters of this nation's youth, and to think it all started in high school!

Eight CCHS students spent last summer working in the Iowa Youth Corps program sponsored by the Clinton County Conservation Board.

The major project was to build a suspension bridge at Eden Valley Refuge near Lost Nation. The hardest work was at the beginning of the program when the Youth Corps carried the bags of cement across the creek and up the hill to make footings for the new bridge. Other projects were pouring a new concrete floor at a bunkhouse in Eden Valley, replacing another old footbridge at Eden Valley, repainting picnic tables, and making new trails.

There was time for other things besides work. Participants had to put in several hours of environmentalist education study each week. Hunter safety education, field trips to Goose Lake, Green Island, Elk River highlighted the educational requirements.

Those participating from CCHS were: Andy Wichert, Donna Galloway, Jay Brady, Renee Beguhn, Becky Mackin, Kevin Kleinsmith, Randy Walker, Linda Geise. Jay Brady and Linda Geise were selected as top members of the Iowa Youth Corp at the end of the summer.

Won A Few - But Still Had

Fun

The 1985 summer season for the Saber Girls' Softball team was a year of struggling, winning only a few of their games throughout the season.

"The team had lots of fun," Wendy Moore said, "but we didn't win a lot." The Seniors had a kidnap breakfast for the ninth graders. The Seniors had to get up at 3:00 a.m. and then die at practice. A watermelon feed was held with their parents after one game. Pieces of the watermelon were whipped at everybody afterwards. A team trip to Wacky Waters also proved to be a fun time for the entire group.

The Sabers placed fifth in the conference standings. Pleasant Valley won the league title. This was the last sporting event for the Big Bend Conference.

Wendy Moore has the fun and is getting ready to throw.

All of the girls worked extremely hard throughout the season, trying to work around the many injuries during the season.

The team consisted of four seniors, two juniors, seven sophomores, and eight freshman. They were lead by Coaches Joleen Eiklenberg and Dawn Overstake.

The Sabers were ranked 10th in the state's class 3A poll early in the season. A playoff spot was still in their mind until after being defeated by Camanche and Pleasant Valley. Both of these teams qualified for the state playoff.

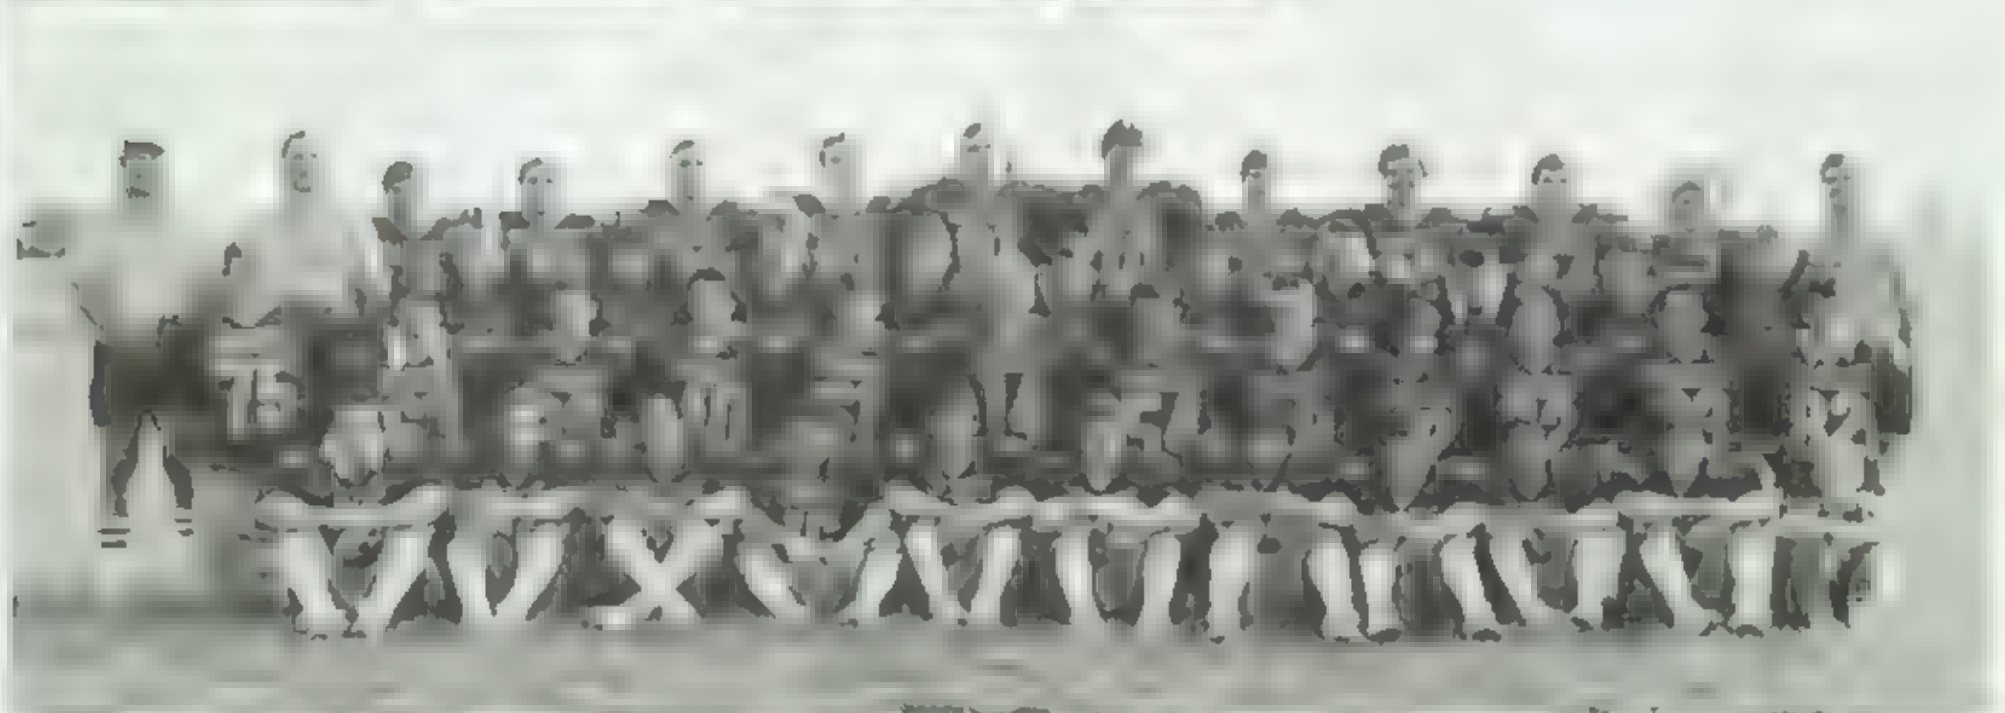

Highlights of the season, according to Mark Anderson, "was the Oelwein game when we were down so far and then came back to win 28-27." Full back Dean King found the Washington game on the highlight. "It was a good win especially since we were not expected to win, 21-0."

"I thought they were nervous and their times were a little slow, but I can't complain - It's always nice to go to state," remarked Jim Hetrick of their performance.

The Sabers placed ninth out of sixteen teams at the State 3A meet held at Verrucker Memorial Golf Course in Ames. Eighth place was won by only one point. The Sabers had been ranked seventh in the state before the meet. Big Tubbs in a jump ball with the Irish

Another Winning Season, 16-4

The 1985-86 varsity boys basketball team was led by 7 foot senior, Al Thomsen, 6' 9" junior, Brig Tubbs, and 6' 5" senior, Mark Alders to a 16-4 record.

The season started slow, only placing 3rd in the Holiday Tournament at North Scott. They then lost to Camanche and Pleasant Valley only to have a 3-3 record during Christmas break. "The kids set a goal during Christmas that they would go undefeated the rest of the season, and they did during the regular season." With that goal they rallied to a 16-3 record at the end of the regular season, before losing to Dubuque Wahlert in the 1st round of District play.

Coach Padgett had to say this about the season: "During January, February, and early March where everything came together and where the kids had fun, we ended up 16-4 which you have to look at as being very successful. The disappointment would be that we didn't go as far in the tournament. Without a conference the tournaments are all we had. Our support was better than the last two years and our student body really gave us good support which is important at any level, high school, college or whatever."

Coach Padgett explained three key reasons of the season. "First, I think obviously you'd have to start with our height inside; second, I thought we got good play from the five kids we were totaling in at the guard spot. Guards, I'd have to say, one is the most important thing in starting the offense and defense; third, you're only as good as your seniors. If you don't have senior leadership out there you're in trouble. We had good senior leadership."

The three big men had to say this: Al Thomsen, "What motivated us was probably the two losses against Pleasant Valley and Camanche which motivated us over Christmas break and we knew we had to work harder to have a winning season, and we did." Mark Alders, "It was a rewarding season. We played together as a team." Brig Tubbs, "This year's team played well together. We tied a school record with 13 consecutive wins."

Al Thomsen is the first basketball player from Central to receive a "full-ride" scholarship to a Division 1 college. He will be attending the University of Tulsa, in Oklahoma.

Mark "Moses" Alders will be going to Wartburg College, in Waverly, Iowa, to play for the Knights.

The new basketball coach was Marsha Bubank. The team was composed of underclass members.

The team was led by guards Angie Bauer and Heather Dexe.

Angie Bauer headed Central's scoring by averaging 11 points per game. She also had the best free throw rating at 66 percent.

Heather Dexe paced the Sabers in field goal shooting. She had an average of 9.4 points per game.

As a team, the Sabers shot 38 percent from the field and 55 percent from the line while the opponents averaged 49.2 points.

"The key thing is that we had some depth, 10 people that played good basketball. With fresh people on the floor we were able to wear the opponent down. "I hope some of these people can make a positive contribution to the varsity next year," stated Coach Utter.

The 1985-86 Central Sophomore Basketball team finished the season with a twelve game winning streak, setting a record for most wins in a season, which gave them a 16-2 record.

Without much height, they were very talented individuals who worked hard as a team.

Travis Scheckel led the team in total points with 195. Darren Witt was second with 187 and Brad Martin with 176. Brad led all rebounds with 97.

On the average, the sophomores outscored their opponents 63 to 46. They shot 72% from the free throw line, led by Scheckel's 71%. The Sabers shot 46% from the field. Witt and Pat Vickerman had the best with 56%.

Large crowds enjoyed watching the Saber sophomores with their exciting style of play. Vickerman was moved up to varsity play.

The Central Community High School Library Club is an organization for students who work in the library and choose to participate. The 1985-86 officers were Pam Burken, Pres.; Darlene Singleman, Vice-Pres.; and Brenda Burkamper, Secretary/Treasurer. Activities included fun, fund raisers and service projects. A bonfire and movie party was the club's fun fall activity held at the Burkampers'. The Christmas party was a grab bag gift exchange and pizza party held at Happy Joe's. The Burkampers hosted the spring picnic in May. The Library Club and F.F.A. worked together on the coat checks for both the pork and beef banquets which were good money makers. The Library Club's service projects were serving the PTA's chili supper in the fall and helping to serve the F.F.A. banquet in the spring. The yearbook is a self-supporting organization. Its purpose is to bring to the student body a photojournalistic view of the high school events that took place during the year.

Money for the yearbook is raised by ad sales, book sales, and working the concessions at the girls basketball games and at the home track meets. It is always a very close budget since it is not a profit making organization.

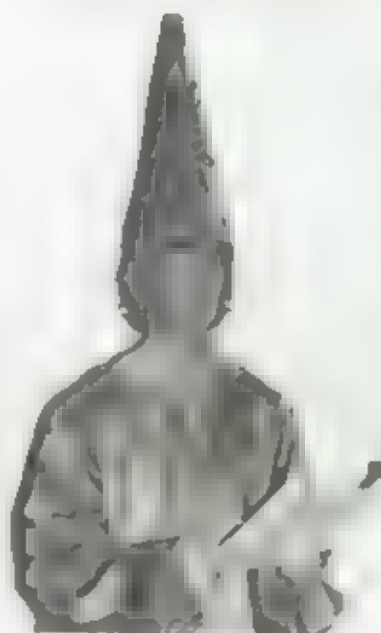

Students may volunteer their time to make the yearbook. Many students think that all you have to do is take a few pictures and the book by some magic formula just appears.

The pictures must be taken true, but also the captions that appear under every picture must be written and all the people identified. A story line must be written about each event in the school. For some people they are willing to work for no glory, but others can't handle it and therefore quit. The book can only be as good as the people who are on the staff and do their work completely.

The yearbook cost roughly $35.00 per copy but this is not what the students have to pay. The staff tries to come up with the rest of the money to make the book affordable for the student body.

If you don't like the yearbook, why not apply and work for a greater yearbook?

WHAT HAVE YOUR PERSONAL GOALS BEEN THIS YEAR?

PRINCIPAL
Mr. Entler

I had three: 1. To get into three classrooms every day to gain a better knowledge of what is going on and how teachers are teaching. Also to see if I could offer suggestions for even more successful teaching skills.

2. To talk to five students per week and get to know them better and understand how they feel about school.

3. To know the name of every student in the school - an almost impossible job.

The Swingin' Sabers Jazz Band was split into two groups this year. The brass section remained the same while only the sax and rhythm section changed. Also, part of the Jazz Band was the Jazz Combo which consisted of select members from each section.

The Jazz Band performed at many civic and community events. Once again the band was invited to play at the Iowa State Fair, as a guest band. They also attended banquets, large group annual meetings, community Christmas parties, and local elementary schools.

The Swingin' Sabers were also kept busy at various school festivals and competitions. The highlight of the season was a third place trophy won at the University of Wisconsin Jazz Fest in February. The band also performed the Augustana College Jazz Fest in December. State contest at Muscatine Jr. College in January, and at the NEIBA District Jazz contest at Marion in March. They also hosted a Jazz Festival at the Jr High in early March. Winning recognition for solo work were Roy Tan, Eric Nelson, Sharon Porth, and Kristi Smith.

The Central Community High School Band of 1985-86 had one of the better balanced instrumentations of the past ten or so years. The low brass and low woodwind sections were well-supplied with skilled players. The Concert Band made its debut this school year at the Band and Choir Christmas Concert in December. A highlight of this Concert was the "standing ovation" for the choir and band's version of the 'Hallelujah Chorus' from 'The Messiah.' The band next appeared at the Winter Concert in February. Kristy Smith was the featured soloist with the band, performing 'Concerto in C major of Oboe' by Haydn. The band also quizzed the audience's memory on old TV show reruns. The All-School Concert followed quickly in March where all 4 bands in the District performed in the succession. The 5 tuba players in the district combined for "Ghostbusters." The Concert Band also attended the Tri-School Festival at North Scott, and Large Group Class AAAA contest. The Commencement Concert completed the Concert Season.

The Music Boosters are parents of high school music students who take part in activities to support the school's music program. The group serves both the vocal and instrumental music departments, and is governed by a fifteen member board of directors which meets once a month.

Vocal Music

The vocal music department had a very rewarding year. The year started with students trying out for the All-state auditions. Two quartets auditioned with only Shelly Thiel being selected. One of the quartets went to the Iowa Honor Choir, while one quartet performed at the Clarke College Festival.

The Chamber singers were very busy making 13 performances during the month of December doing "I love Christmas".

The Christmas Band and vocal concert was held December 15. Christmas music was provided while being acted out upon the stage by various students.

In March a group from the musical cast attended a workshop at Circa 21 in Rock Island, Illinois where they saw the stage production of "Joseph And His Technicolor Coat".

The next big production for the music department was the musical "Once Upon a Mattress" March 14 and 15. There was a dinner theater provided by the music boosters.

The next function was preparing for the 4-A ensemble contest on April 5, and the large groups contest on May 2. Those students that received division ratings (superior) were: Roy Tan (baritone solo), Lisa Davis (Treble Voice Low solo), Shelly Thiel (treble voice high solo), Jane Rodriguez (treble voice high solo), Renee Begunn (treble voice medium solo), Kristy Smith (treble voice medium solo), Kristy Smith and Dean King (unlike duet), Shelly Thiel and Kristy Smith (like duet), Girls Trio composed of Lisa Davis, Kristy Smith and Shelly Thiel, Chamber Choir composed of the chamber singers.

Central also hosted the tri-school choral Festival with North Scott and Pleasant Valley on April 21. It was under the direction of Lee Mathews, assistant professor of music and director of the Performing Arts Series at Marycrest College in Davenport.

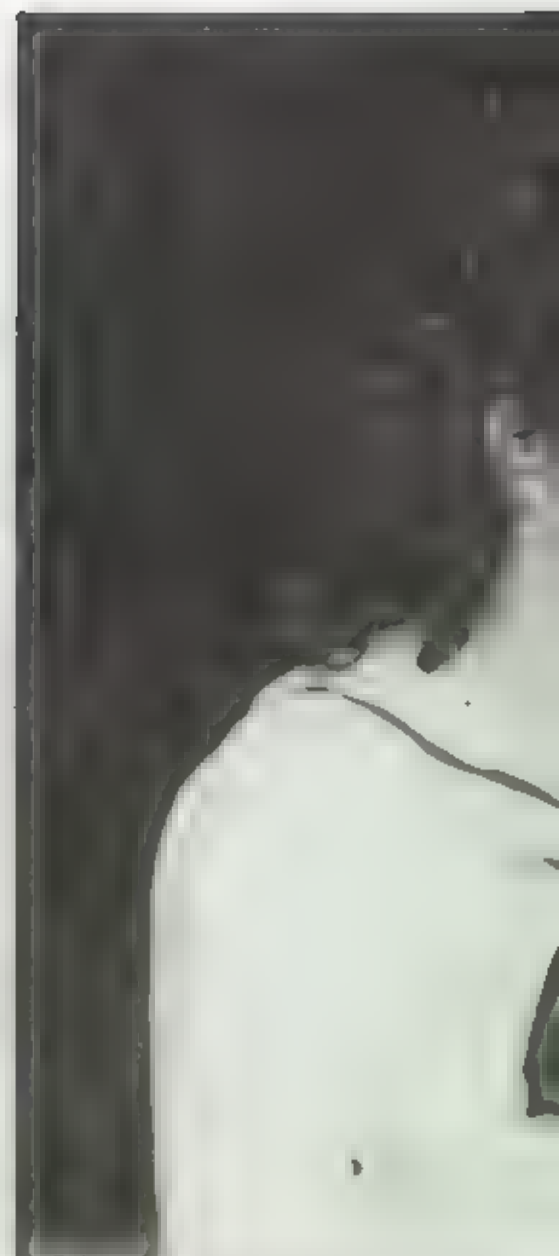

The mixed choir also took a trip to St. Louis on May 10 and 11th.

The final performance for the choir is always at graduation.

Dr. Gibbs (Keith Wichert) greets his wife
(DeAnne McCulloh) before breakfast.

Thornton Wilder's "Our Town" was held
November 8 & 9 at 7:30 in the CCHS gym.

Andy Wichert played the stage manager which narrated the story about people and their lives in Groves Corner, New Hampshire. It took place from 1900-1913.

Through the eyes of the stage manager, the background and years skipped helped illustrate the lifestyle of the people.

The story portrayed the thought that no one lives all of life all the time. No one realizes how good earth is until death.

Steve Thultgen says, "I will remember having to kiss Jane Rodriguez for three plays in a row."

Andy Wichert will remember from the play "When Emily comes back from the dead. People don't understand life until they are dead."

"Once Upon a Mattress"

The musical "Once Upon a Mattress" was presented at the Central Community High School gymnasium on March 14 and 15.

Many moons ago, in a far-off land, princesses from neighboring kingdoms vie for the honor of marrying Prince Dauntless (Tony Faudel). Thus far, 12 princesses have tried and failed the impossibly difficult test which Queen Aggravian (Jane Rodriguez) makes them take.

Lovely Lady Larken (Shelly Thiel) and brave Sir Harry (Dean King) are in a quandry. Larken is in the "family way" but law says no one may marry until the Prince has wed. Harry leaves on a quest to find a "true bonified princess."

He returns with Winnifred the Woebegone Princess of the Swamps (DeAnna McCulloh). The Queen loathes Winnifred on sight, but the Princess is allowed to compete. King Sextimus (Monty Sheekles) liked Winnifred, but can only communicate through pantomime. He had been voiceless since a witch's curse was put upon him: "King Sextimus will never talk until the mouse devours the hawk."

The Queen and her wizard (Steve Thiltgen) devise a test for Winnifred. She will have to sleep on a stack of 20 mattresses beneath which a pea will be placed. Should she sleep, she's not a true princess. For extra insurance, the Queen makes her take a sleeping potion and brings on the Nightingale of Samarkand (Renee Beguhn) to lull her to sleep.

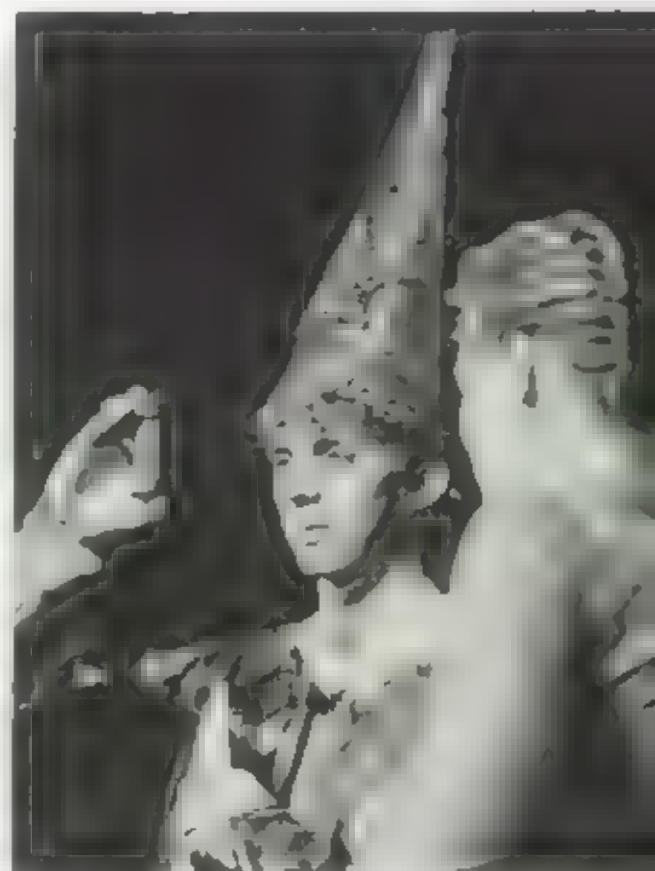

The next morning the Court discovers that Winnifred hasn't slept a wink. When the Queen still balks at having a swamp princess for a daughter-in-law, Dauntless shouts her down: the mouse devours the hawk. The spell is broken and the King can talk. All ends happily ever after.

Also added to the merriment are Ben Macumber (the minstrel Roy Jan, the jester); ladies of the court-Sue Green, Lisa Burke, Lisa Davis, Penny Heister, Rhonda Danielsen, Jennifer Burzall, Renee Beguhn, Kristi Hofer, Joni Fatchett, Laura Hetrick, and Juli Casad, and knights and soldiers-Eric Bentley, Matt Ahrens, Darin Dusanek, Trent Dalton, Mike Frohwein, and Jussi Hanhivaara. Also featured in the opening scene were dancers Mary Howes and Tony Sheekles.

Lisa Ahrens and Kristy Smith served as the accompanists. Ushers were Sue Canaday, Colette Claeys, Nancy Seward, Angie Waack, Deje Greve, and Laurie Hass.

Seniors ...

Graduation took place on Tuesday, May 27 at 7:30 in the high school gymnasium.

One hundred fifty three seniors marched in to the "Pomp and Circumstance" lead by the Junior class officers, Kim Denahy and Angie Bauer. The stage was decorated by two floral displays in school colors. Each senior wore the class flower which was a white carnation tipped with deep purple.

The National Anthem singers lead the auditorium in singing the National Anthem before the featured guest speaker of the evening.

The highlight of the evening was the address by Lt. Col. David Hilmers, astronaut, U.S.M.C. He graduated from C.C.H.S. 18 years ago.

In his address Lt. Col. Hilmers made four points. 1) Set high goals, 2) perseverance, 3) integrity, and 4) consideration for others.

LT. COL. Dave Hilmers, a former CCHS student, now can say "Look at me now!"

The 35 year old astronaut flew into orbit on Thursday, Oct 3-7, 1985 on the maiden flight of the Atlantis. The shuttle went 65 orbits, traveled 1,625,000 miles and spent 96 hours in space.

The space flight was a part of a secret U.S. Department of Defense mission. Hilmers was scheduled to fly aboard the Challenger in May 1986 until the accident on January 28, 1986 when the Challenger blew-up killing 7 people. The purpose of his next flight was to have launched an international satellite, Ulysses, which would then orbit around the poles of the sun.

Lt.Col. Hilmers is a mission specialist. Since 1980, he has worked on three designs for upper-stage booster rockets and also worked as a radio link between mission control and the shuttle crews.

When asked at Cornell graduation, Lt. Col. Hilmers said the best thing about being in space was the fact that there was a sunrise and sunset every 45 minutes. "It is a gorgeous, gorgeous sight. Pictures don't do it justice. The beautiful blue color rising above the horizon...you can actually count twenty three distinct layers of atmosphere", he continued.

Talking of fear, he said its a little uncomfortable knowing that thousand of powerful explosives are strapped to your back. The way the rockets make the orbital shudder, you think it is going to fall apart, but once in orbit, there is a striking contrast as to how smooth and uneventful it is.

The astronaut was valedictorian of his class in 1968. He lettered in football, basketball and track, member of the National Honor Society, member of band, chorus and science club.

He then went to Cornell College where he graduated Phi Beta Kappa with a major in economics and mathematics. He was awarded Midwest Conference Outstanding Scholar-Athlete in 1971. He obtained his Masters degree in Electrical Engineering in 1978.

On the space flight, Lt. Col. Hilmers took from Central Community High, the letter "C" and a pen with the saber emblem on it. He also carried several mementos for his family.

The CCHS school is very proud to have been represented by an outstanding graduate.

CLOSING

As the year began to come to a close, the students and staff started to count down the number of days that were left. Everyone was anxious to get out of school and on with the summer. The days started to get warmer and more daydreaming started to occur. Everyone's thoughts were on getting out of school and what they would do during the summer.

When everyone's last day arrived, there was much excitement. The halls were very noisy between classes and the classrooms were louder than usual. The baseball and softball teams had already begun practices. There will be games throughout the summer. Along with the ball games there will be vacations to unknown places, picnics, family reunions, swimming, and summer jobs.

Everyone was excited about what they were going to do during the summer and ready to start doing it right now. They will do very exciting things and by September they will be ready to get back to school and tell everyone else what they did during the summer.

The first days of school are just as exciting to most people as the last days.

Some of the local events that happened over the past year are: the Iowa Lottery was approved and started, Joel Green was killed when the grain covered him in a grain elevator where he was playing, many of the stores down town closed, Walker's being the main one, and having a Casey's store was opened.

Some world wide events are: September 19 and earthquake shook Mexico City, Mexico measuring
